Career Objective

I am looking forward to get into a career that I would not only enjoy, but a career that has expected growth in the job market in the future. Many people overlook this when searching for a career. I need a job that will be abundant in the future and also has a decent salary. This is because prices are rising on our everyday necessary products. I also want a job where I can be able to further my potential in life and not stay at the same level of knowledge while helping others.
